Lessons:

- Après « at » on met +ing
- When we don't specify how many hundreds, we employ the plural (tens, hundreds, thousands...) + 'of'. If we use 'a hundred' or 'one hundred', then we don't say 'of'. We cannot use the singular 'hundred' without specifying 'a' or 'one'.
- The most common uses of will, used to and would are:
  - o Will : indicate the simple future.
  - o Used to :repeated or habitual actions in the past.
  - o Would : the past form of the modal verb 'will'.
- How about' or 'what about' is followed by a gerund (-ing form).
- Such' is followed by an article (a/an) + adjective + noun.
